

Stereo Power Amplifier

The Peasant is building a new set of power amplifiers for his home stereo.

Some help and guidance for this project was received from various members of the DIY Audio Forum.

The Peasant was fortunate enough to have an empty pair of Bryston 4B chassis', obtained from a former Bryston dealer who had originally purchased them as display units. These came equipped with heat sinks, power inlet/fuses, and output binding posts. All we need to do is add the innards!
